

Take Action: What You Can Do

There are as many ways to get involved in WorldCrafts as there are people, schedules, and tastes. Find the one that suits you!

Shop

Buy birthday, Christmas gifts, and keepsake heirlooms for family and friends—and alleviate poverty. Register online www.WorldCraftsVillage.com to receive notifications of specials.

Host a Party

You can host or promote an event of any size, for any occasion, for any need. We are privileged to support you in your planning with many free resources found at www.WorldCraftsVillage.com/events.asp.

Take a Local World Tour

A great place to start is www.WorldCraftsVillage.com, but don't stop there. Take your family to authentic ethnic food restaurants. Visit local cultural events. You can even host an international dinner in your home.

Raise Awareness Locally

Raise awareness at your place of worship, civic group, or state or association event.

We can supply free catalogs and promotional brochures to display, place in magazine racks, or include in gift or conference bags.

Include products and stories in programs and bulletins.

Raise Awareness in the Next Generation

Encourage your children or classroom to go through the WorldCrafts catalog and select items that intrigue them or choose gift items for family members, teachers, and friends. Then, help them research the countries and people groups that the gifts originate from. If they do give a gift, help them write the information that they learned on a note card and include it as an enclosure with the gift.

Recycle

Finished your shopping in this season's WorldCrafts catalog? Pass it on. Encourage attendees at conferences and events to pass their WorldCrafts catalog on to others who may not yet be aware of the ministry.

Remember

Lift up the artisans, countries, and their products. Remember their living situations, their struggles, and their families.

Give

A gift to the Jackson/Reese Endowment for WorldCrafts provides essential support to expand the reach of WorldCrafts around the world. The endowment enables WorldCrafts to include new artisans, reach new countries, and build new relationships. All gifts will be acknowledged and all donations are a tax-deductable.

Mail your check, payable to the WMU Foundation, to:
